

Contents

About the companion website viii

- 1 Introduction 2
James Field
- 2 The function of removable prostheses 4
James Field
- 3 Stability and retention 6
James Field
- 4 Patient assessment for complete dentures 8
James Field
- 5 Edentulous ridge presentations 10
James Field
- 6 Patient assessment for partial dentures 12
James Field
- 7 Factors complicating success 14
James Field
- 8 Accessibility and operator position 16
James Field
- 9 Pre-prosthetic treatment 18
Claire Storey and James Field
- 10 Revisiting the anatomy 20
James Field
- 11 Making a primary impression—complete dentures 22
James Field
- 12 Making a primary impression—partial dentures 24
James Field
- 13 Special trays 26
James Field
- 14 Compound and putty materials—handling and manipulation 28
James Field
- 15 Recording an upper functional impression 30
James Field
- 16 Recording a lower functional impression 32
James Field
- 17 Managing fibrous ridges 34
James Field
- 18 Denture bases 36
James Field
- 19 Recording the maxillo-mandibular relationship 38
James Field

20	Prescribing the upper wax contour	40
	James Field
21	Prescribing the lower wax contour	42
	James Field
22	Tooth selection and arrangement	44
	James Field
23	Occlusal dimensions and occlusal schemes	46
	James Field
24	Respecting the neutral zone	48
	James Field
25	Assessing trial prostheses	50
	James Field
26	Fitting and reviewing finished prostheses	52
	James Field
27	Copying features from existing prostheses	54
	James Field
28	Classifying partial prostheses and material choices	56
	James Field
29	Designing partial prostheses	58
	James Field
30	Saddles, rests and clasps	60
	James Field
31	Connectors and bracing	62
	James Field
32	Surveying and preparing guide planes	64
	James Field
33	Designing frameworks—case examples	66
	James Field
34	Precision attachments—the fixed–removable interface	68
	James Field
35	Dealing with frameworks and substructures	70
	James Field
36	The altered cast technique and the RPI system	72
	James Field
37	Swing-lock prostheses	74
	James Field
38	Gingival veneers	76
	James Field
39	Immediate and training prostheses	78
	Claire Storey and James Field
40	Occlusal splints	80
	James Field
41	Implant-supported mandibular overdentures	82
	Claire Storey and James Field
42	Principles of restoring maxillary defects	84
	James Field
43	Tissue conditioners, liners and re-basing	86
	Claire Storey and James Field
44	Maintaining adequate oral hygiene	88
	Claire Storey and James Field
45	Troubleshooting loose or painful dentures	90
	James Field

46	Gagging, other difficulties and making a referral	92
	James Field
47	Summary of procedural stages	94
	James Field
	Appendices	97
	Recommended and supplementary reading	106
	Index	110