

Contents

Preface x

About the Authors xi

Acknowledgments xvii

1 Introduction 1

Bonnie S. LeRoy, Patricia McCarthy Veach, and Nancy P. Callanan

Development of the 2nd Edition 2

References 7

2 Complicated Shadows: The Limitations of Autonomy in Genetic Counseling Practice 9

Robert G. Resta

Objectives 9

Definition and Focus 10

Seven Limitations of Autonomy 11

Summary 18

Learning Activities 19

References 21

3 Actively Engaging with Patients in Decision-Making 25

Andrea Shugar and Cheryl Shuman

Objectives 25

A Brief History of the Medical Encounter: From Paternalism to Shared Decision-Making 25

Psychological Aspects of Decision-Making 26

Informed Decision-Making 30

Summary 41

Learning Activities 41

Acknowledgment 48

References 48

4 Risk Assessment and Communication: A Complex Process 53

Shannan Delany Dixon, MaryAnn W. Campion, and Claire N. Singletary

Objectives 53

Introduction	53
Risk Assessment in Genetic Counseling	54
Risk Communication	61
Influences on Risk Perception	65
Summary	70
Learning Activities	70
References	73

5 A Genetic Counselor's Guide to Understanding Grief 79

Nadia Ali and Cecelia Bellcross

Objectives	79
Introduction	80
The Grief Process	82
Types of Grief	89
Conclusion	101
Learning Activities	102
References	105

6 Patient Anger: Insights and Strategies 109

Lynn Schema

Objectives	109
Introduction	109
Challenges Posed by Patient Anger	116
Practice Applications	118
Conclusion	123
Summary Points	123
Learning Activities	124
References	127

7 Resistance and Adherence: Understanding the Patient's Perspective 131

Krista Redlinger-Grosse

Objectives	131
Definition and Concepts	132
Resistance	133
Adherence and Non-adherence	140
Summary	144
Learning Activities	145
References	148

8 Countertransference: Making the Unconscious Conscious 153

Krista Redlinger-Grosse

Objectives	153
Definitions and Concepts	154
The Countertransference Process	155
Manifestations and Effects of Countertransference	161

- Management of Countertransference 166
- Summary 169
- Learning Activities 169
- References 171

- 9 Supporting Family Communication About Genetic Conditions 177
Marion Mcallister, Rhona Macleod, and Alison Metcalfe
 - Objectives 177
 - Introduction 177
 - Literature Review 178
 - Application of Select Family Systems Theory Interventions Adapted to Genetic Counseling 180
 - Summary 186
 - Learning Activities 187
 - Acknowledgments 188
 - References 188

- 10 Developmentally Based Approaches for Counseling Children and Adolescents 191
Stephanie Austin and Kelly Schoch
 - Objectives 191
 - Introduction 191
 - Child and Adolescent Development 192
 - Theoretical Framework 195
 - Chronic Illness and Children 197
 - Strategies for Genetic Counseling with Children and Adolescents 199
 - Conclusion 212
 - Summary Points 212
 - Learning Activities 212
 - References 214

- 11 Cultural Competency and Genetic Counseling: Key Concepts 219
Nancy Steinberg Warren
 - Objectives 219
 - Introduction 219
 - Definitions and Key Concepts 220
 - Health Disparities 226
 - Conceptualizing Cultural Competence 230
 - Developing Cultural Competency 231
 - Summary 236
 - Learning Activities 236
 - Resources for Cultural Knowledge, Cases, Teaching, and Learning Exercises 239
 - References 240

- 12 Cultural Competency: Application to Genetic Counseling 247
Nancy Steinberg Warren
 - Objectives 247

- Introduction 247
- Cultural Competency and the Genetic Counseling Process 248
- Explanatory Models of Health and Well-being 253
- Health Literacy 259
- Working with Interpreters and Translators 260
- Summary 263
- Learning Activities 264
- Resources for Cultural Knowledge, Cases, Teaching, and Learning Exercises 265
- References 266

- 13 Education in Genetic Counseling: The Impacts of Genetic Literacy and Adult Learning 271
Andrea L. Durst and Rachel Mills
 - Objectives 271
 - Introduction 271
 - General Literacy in the United States 273
 - Health Literacy 274
 - Genetic Literacy 276
 - Genetic Literacy Considerations for Genetic Counselors 280
 - Adult Education Theory in Practice 294
 - Summary Points 301
 - Learning Activities 302
 - References 304

- 14 Adapting Genetic Counseling Practice to Different Models of Service Delivery 317
Angela Trepanier and Dawn C. Allain
 - Objectives 317
 - Introduction 317
 - Defining Service Delivery Models 318
 - Attributes of Alternative Service Delivery Models 319
 - Putting it all Together – Practice Implications 329
 - Conclusions 333
 - Learning Activities 333
 - References 335

- 15 “Oh The Places You’ll Go!” The Genetic Counselor Professional Development Journey 341
Catherine A. Reiser
 - Objectives 341
 - Introduction 341
 - Literature Review 343
 - Reflective Practice 347
 - Optimizing Self-Reflection 352
 - Leadership 354
 - Summary Points 356
 - Acknowledgments 356

Learning Activities	357
References	360
16 Development of the Genetic Counseling Profession: A Professionalization Process	365
Bonnie Jeanne Baty
Objectives	365
What Makes a Field of Practice a Profession?	365
How Does Genetic Counseling Measure Up to the Characteristics of a Profession?	366
Milestones in the Development of the Genetic Counseling Profession	366
Genetic Counseling and the General Model of Professionalization	369
Looking to the Future: Milestones that Need Further Development to Advance the Professionalization of Genetic Counseling	370
How is Professionalization of Genetic Counseling Relevant to Genetic Counseling Practitioners?	375
Summary	376
Learning Activities	377
References	378
Index	383