

| | |
|----|--|
| 1 | Anatomy of the eye |
| 2 | Physiology of the eye |
| 3 | Optics |
| 4 | Pharmacology |
| 5 | Microbiology |
| 6 | Office efficiency and public relations |
| 7 | History taking |
| 8 | Preliminary examination |
| 9 | Visual function and impairment |
| 10 | Understanding ophthalmic equipment |
| 11 | Maintenance of ophthalmic equipment and instruments |
| 12 | Refractive errors and how to correct them |
| 13 | Facts about glasses |
| 14 | Rigid contact lenses: basics |
| 15 | Soft contact lenses |
| 16 | Advanced techniques in soft and rigid contact lens fitting |
| 17 | Managing a contact lens practice |
| 18 | Visual fields |
| 19 | Automated visual field testing |
| 20 | Computers in ophthalmic practice |
| 21 | Ocular Injuries |
| 22 | The urgent case |
| 23 | Common eye disorders |
| 24 | Common retinal disorders |
| 25 | Glaucoma |
| 26 | Uveitis |
| 27 | Dry eye disease |
| 28 | Examination of the newborn, infant, and small child |
| 29 | Ocular motility, binocular vision, and strabismus |
| 30 | Aseptic technique and minor office surgery |
| 31 | The operative patient |
| 32 | Highlights of ocular surgery |
| 33 | Assisting the surgeon |
| 34 | Ambulatory surgery |
| 35 | Lasers in ophthalmology |
| 36 | Refractive surgery: today and the future |
| 37 | Corneal Collagen Crosslinking in the management of ectatic diseases |
| 38 | Wavefront aberrations and custom ablation |
| 39 | Ophthalmic photography |
| 40 | Optical coherence tomography |
| 41 | Computerized corneal topography |
| 42 | Specular microscopy |
| 43 | Diagnostic ultrasound |
| 44 | Blind persons in the modern world |
| 45 | Cardiopulmonary resuscitation |
| 46 | History of spectacles |
| 47 | Art and the eye |
| 48 | Allied health personnel in ophthalmology |
| 49 | Ophthalmology ethics |
| 50 | Allied Ophthalmic Health Personnel: Scope of Practice |
| 51 | Testing and certification of ophthalmic skills |
| 52 | The development of Allied Ophthalmic Personnel (AOP) in North America and Worldwide |
| 53 | Ophthalmic assisting in the international community and in the prevention of blindness |
| 54 | Eye banking |
| 55 | Atlas of clinical ophthalmic disorders |
| | Glossary |
| | Appendix 1: Ocular emergencies |
| | Appendix 2: Following universal precautions |
| | Appendix 3: Principles of informed consent |
| | Appendix 4: Abbreviations and symbols in clinical use |
| | Appendix 5: Optical constants of the eye |
| | Appendix 6: Metric conversion (US) |
| | Appendix 7: Skill checklists |
| | Appendix 8: Translations of commonly asked questions and commands |
| | Appendix 9: Office supplies in common use |

| | |
|----|---|
| | Appendix 10: Estimating visual loss |
| | Appendix 11: Vision and driving |
| | Appendix 12: Diopters to millimeters of radius conversion tables |
| | Appendix 13: Vertex conversion table |
| | Appendix 14: Diopters of corneal refracting power to millimeters of radius of curvature |
| | Appendix 15: Compensation for effect of vertex distances when plus lens is moved away from the eye |
| | Appendix 16: Compensation for effect of vertex distances when plus lens is moved toward the eye |
| | Appendix 17: Dioptric curves for extended range of keratometer |
| | Supplementary resources |
| | Front matter |
| 56 | Appendix 3: Principles of informed consent |