

Introduction: The Art of Prescribing and Surviving Emergent Serious Side Effects in Psychopharmacology

Chapter 1. Acute dystonia

Chapter 2. Agitation

Chapter 3. Agranulocytosis with clozapine and other psychotropic medications

Chapter 4. Benzodiazepines and opioids divided and together

Chapter 5. Cardiac emergencies such as arrhythmias, QTc prolongation, and cardiomyopathy

Chapter 6. Discontinuation of psychotropic medications

Chapter 7. Hepatotoxicity of psychotropic medications

Chapter 8. Hypertensive crisis and dietary or drug violation with monoamine oxidase inhibitors

Chapter 9. Hyponatremia, especially in older adults

Chapter 10. Neuroleptic malignant syndrome

Chapter 11. Ocular side effects of psychotropic medications

Chapter 12. Overdoses of psychotropic medications: antidepressants, lithium, and antipsychotics

Chapter 13. Polypharmacy and acute side effects

Chapter 14. Pregnancy: to stop or not to stop

Chapter 15. Psychopharmacological seizure risk management

Chapter 16. Serotonin syndrome

Chapter 17. Substances with addictive potential and psychotropic medications

Chapter 18. Tardive dyskinesia