

SECTION ONE: INTRODUCTION

1: Overview to the Oxford Handbook of Cognitive Analytic Therapy, Laura Brummer, Marisol Cavieres, and Ranil Tan

2: The evolving CAT model and its current core features, Ian B. Kerr and Hilary Beard

SECTION TWO: CAT THEORY AND MODEL DEVELOPMENT

3: Theoretical underpinnings of CAT, Eva Burns-Lundgren

4: The 'D' in CAT, Jason Hepple

5: The development of the multiple self states model, Mark Westacott

SECTION THREE: CAT PRACTICE

6: The structure of therapy, Deborah Tee

7: Reformulation: Creating a shared understanding in CAT, Alison Jenaway

8: Recognition: The development of a compassionate observing eye, Elizabeth Wilde McCormick

9: Revision: Understanding how change is achieved, Julie Lloyd

10: Endings in CAT, Deborah Pickvance

SECTION FOUR: UNDERSTANDING PEOPLE IN THEIR SOCIAL, CULTURAL AND POLITICAL CONTEXT

11: CAT in social context, Rhona Brown

12: Othering and otherness in CAT: Exploring race, racism, and racial dialogues within a relational framework, Jessie Emilion

13: Gender, sexuality, and CAT, Anne Benson and Josephine F. Discepolo Ahmadi

SECTION FIVE: DEVELOPMENTS IN CAT THEORY, RESEARCH, AND PRACTICE

14: Working with enactments in CAT, Dawn Bennett, Glenys Parry, and Liz Fawkes

15: Mapping and writing as a co-creative therapeutic process, Steve Potter

16: Eight session CAT: The evidence and the approach, Stephen Kellett, Alex D. Young, Jason Hepple, and Stephen White

17: Group CAT, Laura Brummer and Cheryl Delisser

18: Do no harm: Balancing risk and safety in CAT, Glenys Parry

19: Evaluating CAT: Research practice and future direction, Peter James Taylor, Olympia Gianfrancesco, and Samantha Hartley

20: Semiotic object relations theory (SORT) as the basic CAT theory?, Mikael Leiman

SECTION SIX: APPLICATIONS OF CAT

21: CAT in the perinatal period, Sarah Douglass

22: A cognitive analytic approach for working alongside young people, Nick Barnes

23: Helping young people early: A model of early intervention for people living with a diagnosis of borderline personality disorder, Louise K. McCutcheon, Jessica O'Connell, and Andrew M. Chanen

24: Getting the balance right: CAT for eating distress, Julia Coleby, Sarah Haycock, Jill Finnigan, Hannah Roberts, and Caroline Wyatt

25: Using CAT to understand and work with complex trauma: Asylum seeker and refugee populations, Claire Wilson

26: CAT and psychosis: Working with unusual experiences and extreme states, Ranil Tan, Alex Perry, and Olympia Gianfrancesco

27: CAT for people with a diagnosis of bipolar disorder, Mark Evans

28: CAT and intellectual disability: Working with individuals and systems, Natalie Bork and Jo Varela

29: CAT within adult mental health inpatient settings, Marisol Cavieres and Ranil Tan

30: CAT within forensic settings part one: An overview, Mark Ramm and Karen Shannon

- 31:CAT in forensic settings part two: Clinical applications, Kerry Manson, Sue Ryan, and Peter Lock
- 32:Clinical neuropsychology: The use of the multiple self states model to understand behaviour following traumatic brain injury, Karen Addy
- 33:A relational approach to working with medically unexplained symptoms (or not yet explained symptoms), Nadine Bearman and Alison Jenaway
- 34:CAT for long term health conditions, Andrew R. Thompson and John R. Fox
- 35:CAT in a cancer setting: Working with people with cancer, carers, and staff, Susie Black and Jason Davies
- 36:Attending to later life: A CAT approach to working with the legacy of complex trauma, Michelle Hamill, Ellen Khan, and Paul Catlin

SECTION SEVEN: CAT WITHIN AND ACROSS SYSTEMS

- 37:Five session CAT care planning approach, Angela Carradice and Andrea Daykin
- 38:CAT consultancy for enhancing team functioning, Sarah Craven-Staines and Jayne Finch
- 39:'Struggling well': Using CAT to make sense of organisational hurt, Sue Walsh and Kate Freshwater
- 40:CAT-informed leadership: Navigating the emotional and relational pressures of the workplace, David Harvey

SECTION EIGHT: INCORPORATING OTHER THERAPEUTIC APPROACHES AND TOOLS WITHIN CAT

- 41:Adapting the six-part story method (6PSM) to CAT, Kim Dent-Brown
- 42:Incorporating compassion focused therapy into CAT: Theory, perspectives, and applications, Pam Jameson
- 43:Incorporating eye movement desensitisation and reprocessing (EMDR) into CAT, Mark J. Walker
- 44:Creativity in CAT and the contributions of arts therapies to its theory and practice, Yvonne J. Stevens and Vicky Petratos
- 45:Embodiment as a relational resource in CAT when working with developmental trauma, Tim Sheard
- 46:CAT and technology: Where do we meet?, Cal Nield

SECTION NINE: PROFESSIONAL ISSUES AND REFLECTIVE PRACTICE

- 47:Developing relational reflective practice for individuals and teams: The 4Ps framework, Lindsay Jones and Phyllis Annesley
- 48:Relational supervision in CAT, Yvonne J. Stevens and Jay Dudley
- 49:Training in CAT, Dawn Bennett, Liz Fawkes, and Yvonne J. Stevens
- 50:Competence in CAT, Glenys Parry and Dawn Bennett
- 51:Ethics and CAT: Dare to be aware, Henrietta Batchelor

SECTION TEN: CONCLUSION

- 52:Future developments and challenges for the current CAT model, Ian B. Kerr and Hilary Beard

APPENDIX: CAT TOOLS

- Psychotherapy file
- Psychotherapy file (adapted)
- The personality structure questionnaire (PSQ)
- The states description procedure (SDP)
- Psycho-social checklist
- Life chart
- Rating sheets (2 examples)