

- 1:Rights and Wrongs in the Psych Professions
- 2:The World Health Organisation's Programme on Quality Rights
- 3:Professions, politics and social change
- 4:Psychosocial perspectives on euthanasia
- 5:The institutionalization of people with intellectual disability: A never-ending story
- 6:Assisted suicide and mental health
- 7:Assisted decision making
- 8:Public and patient involvement in services: Time to stop being patient?
- 9:The politics of diagnosis and alternatives: The Power-Threat-Meaning Framework
- 10:Professional ethical codes
- 11:Task shifting/sharing as a panacea to dearth of human resources for mental health
- 12:Moving upstream: Developing theories of change to address human rights and wrongs
- 13:Mental health e-technologies
- 14:Emerging ethical issues on different mental health conditions/personality
- 15:Ethical issues in dementia
- 16:Moral Stress and Involuntary Treatment in Psychiatry: Working in the Chasm between Idealism and Reality
- 17:Advance statements' (including psychiatric advance directives, joint crisis plans, self-binding directives
- 18:Mental Health Advocacy
- 19:Antipsychotics in Delirium and Dementia: Mediating Pressures to Treat
- 20:Human rights and wrongs in national Constitutions: A case study of the Irish Constitution
- 21:Psychologists as community scribes: The case of Project Salamm
- 22:Rights-based Leadership and Governance in Health and Social Care Services